

International research in microeconomics

Centre for Economic Analysis – CenEA is an independent research institute aiming to provide highest level analysis of consequences of economic and social policy in Poland. Established by the Stockholm Institute of Transition Economics (SITE), the Institute cooperates with research institutes from the Baltic countries and Eastern Europe within the FREE Network.

CenEA has a strong academic focus and is the Polish partner for the tax-benefit microsimulation model for the European Union (EUROMOD). Until 2017 the Institute was also the coordinator of participation of Poland in the Survey of Health, Ageing and Retirement in Europe (SHARE). CenEA publishes commentaries on tax and benefit policy in Poland and is active in the public debate on social and economic policy issues.

More information on CenEA activities can be found on www.cenea.org.pl.

Positions open

In 2019 CenEA will recruit two graduates for the Research Economist positions to work on a number of applied research projects with an important policy component.

Basic requirements:

- master's degree in social sciences (economics, sociology) or natural sciences
- good level of mathematics and IT skills
- very good knowledge of English
- documented strong academic background
- interest in economics and economic policy

The positions offer excellent opportunities for developing research skills and involve working in an international environment on joint projects with institutes from all over Europe. CenEA provides a stimulating work environment and supports personal development through international workshops, seminars and training.

Successful candidates will work on full-time basis as part of CenEA's research team in Szczecin and provide support in the development of CenEA's economic models.

Applications

To apply for the position send your CV with a cover letter (in English) to admin@cenea.org.pl. Applications should include the following statement:

I hereby declare that I agree for my personal data to be processed for the purpose of the present and future recruitment processes, and my consent was expressed when I sent my application documents. I declare also that I was informed that 1) the administrator of the personal data is the Centre for Economic Analysis CenEA with its office located in Szczecin, 2 Cyfrowa Street, and providing the data is voluntary; 2) the data is used only for the purposes of recruitment, based on the consent to purposes related to legally justified interests of the administrator (article 6 paragraph 1 point a and point f of the GDPR); 3) the right to withdraw the consent is reserved, as well as to object to the processing of the data, to request access to the data, rectification, erasure, restriction of processing of the data and data portability; 4) the data is stored until the consent is withdrawn or an objection is reported; 5) everybody keeps the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory body, which is the Office for Personal Data Protection in Warsaw.

The application process is open and suitable candidates will be considered until the position is filled. First application deadline is 05.01.2020.

CenEA is an equal opportunities employer.